There is a new Richmond in the field. By winning the Jerome Handleap at Morris Park yesterday, John E. McDonald's good colt Rubicos, by Rayon d'Or, out of Lily R., by Glenelg, shows that he has a right to be ranked among the very best of the year, and t is a matter of doubt whether any of the great trio who try conclusions to-day can concede him seven pounds and beat him. Rubicon gave away vast lumps of weight to all of his opponents, and, well handled by Willie Midgley, ralloped them into the ground in the final forlong and won with many pounds in reserve. It was Rubicon's eighth successive victory, and the prize was worth $5,345. The Albany Stakes was a good thing for Charles Littlefield's Bright Phoebus, the favorite in the betting, while Glenmoyne, with the pull in a big romp, Taral riding the gelding as well as piloting Bright Phoebus in the Albany Stakes.

It was the opening day of the autumn meet-ing of the New York Jockey Club, and there was dash and snap to the sport. The track was heavy and sodden in places when the first race was called, but as the afternoon wore on it improved, and before the shades of evening fell there was every indication of the course being in perfect condition for to-day's great triangular battle. Many prominent racing men saw the sport, Uncle Joe Clark from California, Pierre Lorillard, Joseph E. Seagram of Ontario, and others who have not been at a race course in some weeks, being among the guests The Jerome Handleap was the chief attraction of the day. The talent did not consider the handicap a good one, and there was such a startling unanimity of opinion concerning Hornpipe that the Keene representative became the favorite at 8 to 5 in a twinkling, Rubicon, who opened favorite at 214 to 1, receding in the bet-ting until 5 to 1 could be had against him. fact that Rubicon had won his last seven races did not have much weight with the unthinking, who stopped every argument with the question. "How about the distance?"

Rubicon has always been regarded as a aprinter, and it was figured by the knowing ones that he would be glad to give it up after a mile or so had been traversed. It was conceeded by everybody that he could outrun any horse in the race, but rumors of Hornpipe's fast work with much for the faithful, and they deserted the alashing big chestnut for the Keene and Dwyer candidates. P. J. Dwyer would have been aweeter on Declare had the colt not been so sore that his preparation was necessarily light. He considered Hornpipe as his most dangerous competitor. The Mesars, Keene thought very highly of their colt, and made no secret of their belief that he would win. Fred Tarai got out and worked with such vigor that he scaled but 110½ pounds. Galliee, Prig. and Harrington had a small following, while, strangest of all, somebody bet on Senator Grady, whose form since he went to Chicago for the American Derby did not warrant his having a chance at almost any weight. Doggett was put up on the Senator, Matt Byrnes very kindly letting the regular stable jockey, Willie Midgley, ride Rulicon.

Hornpipe was a wild horse on the way to

Hornpipe was a wild horse on the way to the post, galloping through the stretch as though he had a world of speed and was only too willing to show it. Mr. Howe lost little time his flag to a good start with the field well bunched. Prig rushed to the front and was the pacenaker up the long backstretch a length be fore Hornpipe, Gallies, and Declare. Midgley and Howe Horn Hornpipe, Gallies, and Declare shidley and Hornpipe and was too a good and Harrington back and waited in the rear. Prig breasted the hill in grand style a length before Hornpipe and Declare at whose heels were diallies and Senator Grady. Crossing the top of Gallies and Senator Grady. Crossing the top of Gallies and Senator Grady. Crossing the top of Gallies and Senator Grady. On the extreme outside challenged Prig and at the same instant Taral sent Hornpipe through in the course odding that behind the favorite, and those who had their money on the brother to Chaos knew that he would win beyond a doubt unless something unforescent occurred. Hornpipe shot away for a mile from home, but his trumph was only momentary, for Midgley put into motion the machinery he had in reserve, and Rubicon, with long, swinging strides, bore down upon the son of Mr. Plokwick and ensurified him. It was son of Mr. Plokwick and ensurified him. It was been also also the proper to the proper to the machinery he had in reserve, and Rubicon, with long, swinging strides, bore down upon the son of the Hornpipe and then Harrington overhauled and disposed of the favorite. Hamilton rode a strong finish on Harrington and the fight was found to the machinery he had in reserve, and Rubicon, was hung out. Nobody expected the wilmor to dea strong finish on Harrington and the fight was found to the fight of the Albany Stakes, going to the post at odds on Hunglis was found to the form of the turk. He was the same and therefore a sister to Hindon, one of the much ties than my of the turk. He was the string for the Albany Stakes, going to the post at odds on the list at the rody of the s had won, and Griffin chaffed him in the fockey's room.

Beansey was considered a certainty for the second race, but certainties have a way of going wrong at times on the race track. The 40 to 1 chance, Warlike, owned by W. H. Dubois, and ridden by Johnny Reagan, carried his field up the hill at a rapid pace, and when Beansey went after him in the homestretch the half brother to 65. Anthony moved away and won a fine race with great case. Beansey was second, and Hardiness a poor third. Sam Bryant was a bad last from start to finish. Warlike was owned, until ten days or so ago, by Augustus Ciason, who presented him to W. H. Dubois. His form in reacteday's race was many bounds higher than he had ever shown before in public.

Little Billy, big knees, bunchy ankies, splints and all won the selling race that wound up the day's sport in clever style, pulling up a bit sore.

but with determination flashing from his eyes as he was led away to his stable. Old Dominion, last until three-sixteenths of a mile from home, was second. Gold Dollar was third, beaten some three or four lengths.

There is strong competition for Jockey Henry (leffin's services next season. Mesars, Helmont, Lorillard, and Gideon & Daly are all after the boy, and James Shields is busy receiving bids.

Mr. Crickmore's table of winners of the Jerome Handleap interested the public greatly. Commencing in 1806 at old Jerome Park, Watson, carrying 110 pounds, won the event, which was then run at heats of a mile, the time being 1/48%, 1/48. In 1808 Bayonet won in 1/40%, and 1/40%, and flayonet must have been quite a race horse. Summaries follow:

CHAMPIONS MEET TO-DAY. Domino, Henry of Navarre, and Clifford Will Surely Start.

Unless the weather takes a sudden change for the worse and makes the track of the New York Jockey Club unfit to race over, Domino, Clifford, and Henry of Navarre, the three acknowledged champions of the thoroughbred turf in America, will meet in a special contest at one mile and a furlong for a purse of $5,000 this afternoon.

Public interest has been at fever heat for more than a month, and it is probable that more than 20,000 persons will see the great horses fight for the mastery. Up to date Domino has beaten both Henry of Navarre and Clifford, the former in the Withers Stakes last spring and the latter for a special prize at Sheepshead Bay three weeks or a month ago. Henry of Navarre has, however, within a month ran a most brilwas beaten a few inches by Clifford, who gave most conclusive evidence of being in was beaten a few inches by Clifford, who gave most conclusive evidence of being in better condition on that occasion than when he was vanquished by Domino at Sheepshead Bay. Therefore the public, that is, the greater portion of it, would not be surprised at the victory of any of the trio, and last night some of the very best judges of race-horses said they could not separate them. It is almost certain that there will not be more than a length between the three horses at the finish of to-day's race. Domino will be ridden by Tarral. Clifford by Simms, and Henry of Navarre by Clayton, who is due to arrive from Kentucky this morning.

It was feared that Henry of Navarre would not be a starter. Byron McClelland, who owns the coit, having expressed himself as being dissatisfied with the three-year-old's work at Jerome Park three days ago; but yesterday the regal chestnut appeared to be all right, and he will be sent to the post this afternoon. Should Domino win, he must be regarded as the undoubted champion of the year, and the black fellow will in all probability be the favorite in the betting, his consistency, gameness, and speed having won for him a host of admirers. Clifford is a better horse than at any previous time this year, and then years with the champions named, the programme for Morris Park to-day has two other star events. The first and most important is the Marton Stakes for two-year-olds, which will be worth about $25,000 to the winner. For this rich prize Connoisseur and Hombazette will represent Charles Littlefield. Jr.; Brandywine, O. H. P. Belmont; Margian, Perry Belmont; Salvation and Sadie, Marcus Daly; Agitator, J. R. & F. P. Keene; Cromwell, A. F. Walcott: Gutta Percha and Ridicule, J. A. A. H. & D. H. Morris; California, the Oneck Stables; Nicolini and Manchester, Jacob Ruppert, Jr.; Monaco, Louis Stewart; Halma, Byron McClelland; Handspun, the Kendall Stable, and the Sabrina coit, J. W. Rogers, The Matron is one of the richest of two-year-old events decided each year, and on no previous occas

Percha all having a royal chance to win it on public form.

The Manhattan Handicap must of necessity be a great race, as Mr. Vosburgh has brought Sir Walter, Dorian, Sir Excess, Lazarone, The Pepper, and Redskin together with considerable skill. Entries follow:

ALIX ON A SLOW TRACK.

The Little Queen Trots Gamely and Come Home in $106 1-8.

CHILLICOTHE, Oct. 5,-This was the last day of the fall meeting at the kite-shaped track. The weather was raw and cold and rain fell at intervals from 11 to 3 o'clock, which made the track somewhat heavy. The first race on the card was the 2:22 trot. Gabrielle, the favorite won easily in straight heats. In the free-for-all pace John R. Gentry won in straight heats, and lowered the track record made by Vassar on Tuesday from 2:07 to 2:06.

After the second heat of the pacing trace Alix was brought out to go against her record of 2:0:34. The track was heavy, and a strong north wind was blowing, which made fast time impossible. The game little mare, however, did the mile in 2:0046. It was the opinion of the best judges and horsemen that the track was 3½ seconds slow. Summaries: 2:23 class, trotting; purse $1,000.

Flying dib's Mile.

The mile of Flying Jib at Chillicothe Thursday puts the question of the coming of the 2:00 harness horse at rest. Yet the performance is not distracting. Years ago, so many years that one wearies thinking thereof, Westmont paced at Chicago in 2:01%. The fact that Flying Jib, at Chicago in 2:01%. The fact that Flying Jib, most uncertain of horses, with the aid of the bicycle sulky, paces now in three or three and a quariers seconds faster time should not be unduly exaited.

Away back in the olden das Ethan Allen, pulled by a running mate, went a mile at the trotting gait in 2:15. Later, H. B. Winahip, like Flying Jib, a horse of marvellous speed and a soft heart, went a recurd-breaking mile, and there is little question that Saladin could, perhaps, race a mile, pulled by a running horse, in quite two minutes. into two minutes.
But then when the simon-pure harness horse of the two-minute brand comes he will not need runner to pull him. The two-minute trotter or pacer must do it unsided by his brother of

No Prospects of a Race Between Cornell

ITHACA, Oct. 5 .- As a result of Dean White's visit to Europe last summer, a report has been circulated that he succeeded in arranging a boat race between Cornell and Oxford. When interrace between Cornell and Oxford. When interviewed in regard to the matter Prof. White said:
"While in England I had an informal discussion of boating matters with leading Oxford and Cambridge men. No arrangements, however, were made for a race between crews of Cornell and Oxford, and you can state positively that, despite all reports to the contrary, no race between Cornell and Oxford will take place this year or next. The difference in the rowing seasons of the two countries makes it difficult to arrange an international intercollegiate boat race."

A "Ringer" at the Columbia A. C.'s Box

F. A. Brennan of the Williamsburgh A. A. called at THE SUN office last night and wished to deny positively that he figured in any bout at the Columbia A. C. boxing tournament on Thursday night. He says that he spent the evening at Newark, and was greatly astonished to learn from the papers yesteriay morning that Tim Keefe. Dauntless A. C., had whipped him in 53 seconds. He was entered all right and fagured on the programme as No. 3 in the I livpeund class. His explanation is that some enterprising boxer answered to his name in the dressing room, and impersonated him afterward in the ring.

"A good tale bears twice tellng. Yesterday we advertised a genuine Covert Cloth Fall Overcoat, price $18. Maybe you didn't see resterday's "ad.," but if you're lucky enough to see this one you'll be awfully unlucky if you miss seeing the coat.

It's made the fashionable length, in the fashionable shade of brown, with the fashionable strap seams, wide collar and lapels, and the price-well, try and find another such coat for the same money. They're as scarce as hens' teeth.

Note this fact: The distinctive feature of our gentlemen's clothing is that it is "so different" from the ordinary ready made. You'll notice it in this coat, and you'll notice it in every garment we make.
